Game of War
_A game of luck and suspense_

By: Tyler Rice

What would happen if two civilizations tried to inhabit the same land? Will they kill each other off or live in harmony, what do you think? Continue to find out!

The goal of this game is to watch two civilizations battle it out to the death or live in harmony, hoping that your civilization survives.

Click on New to start a new game and next to move on to the next generation.

You will win if your civilization is lucky enough to survive, with or without the opposing civilization.

The game is over when one or both of the civilizations die off.

Ready to rest your luck?!
