In the Mushroom Kingdom, Mario tells Luigi: "We have-a-so many power ups to choose from! Why don’t we make a game out of them?!". To which Luigi replies: "Oh yeah! Let’s make a game! Ya-hoo!" so they got together with as much power ups as possible and laid them out onto a board with one objective: get your score as high as possible from matching them into rows of three or more. The game is simple, yet fun!

The goal of this game is to match the power ups in rows of three or more getting as much points as possible.

Points are awarded for matching power ups in rows of three or more.

The game is over when you either run out of moves or when you decide to end the game early.

Good luck and get those power ups!
